Tonche Flames Seen Near 50 Miles Away

A spectacular fire of undetermined origin destroyed a wing of the famous Pitcairn estate on Tonche mountain just north of Ashokan reservoir late last night, causing damage estimated unofficially at $100,000. Flames shooting 50 to 100 feet into the air were visible 50 miles away. Motorists and pedestrians clogged approach roads, making it difficult for fire equipment from three area fire companies to reach the mountain top. George Muller, 42, of West Shokan, a member of Olive Fire Company No. 3, was overcome by smoke and rushed to Kingston Hospital for the rescue ambulance unit of the West Hurley Fire Department. Hospital authorities reported his condition as "apparently good" today.

Family Left Wednesday

The property, consisting of two large buildings, a wing, and several lesser structures, is owned by descendants of John Pitcairn, founder of the Pittsburgh Paint and Glass Co. The family of Raymond Pitcairn, which stayed on the estate this summer, left last Wednesday to return to their home near Philadelphia, Pa.

Destroyed by the blaze, which apparently broke out in the living room of the wing, or in one end of the huge banquet style dining room—50 feet high from floor to ceiling and 50 feet long—were a large kitchen, pantry, two bedrooms and the dining room.

Many Valuables Lost

Invaluable antiques, quantities of silver, pewterware, furniture and household furnishings were lost.

Only occupants of the estate at the time the blaze was first discovered, about 9:45 p. m., were Charles Relyea of the Town of Hurley, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, and Mrs. Relyea, who reside on the property as custodians.

Relyea told The Freeman that he was asleep on the davenport of his home near the wing when Mrs. Relyea discovered the blaze, which seemed to be in one end of the dining room.

Relyea Fight Flames

He said he took a hose and his wife another, on opposite sides of the burning structure—two stories high—and played the water on the flames until fire equipment could reach the scene.

Relyea said that huge sparks, "half as big as a cup," fell on other buildings and that, as they fell, he and Mrs. Relyea would soak them with the hose to contain the fire and keep it from spreading.

These sparks, which he described as "red hot," threatened to ignite fresh blazes as they descended on the hand-hewn wooden shingles of the roofs of neighboring structures.

Pool Furnishes Water

He said a swimming pool with 100,000 gallons of water was in.

Phone Pact Affects 150 Men in Area

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The New York Telephone Co. and a union representing Upstate plant and engineering workers have agreed on a new one-year contract calling for wage increases of $1 to $3 a week.

According to Robert J. Dalton, manager of the Kingston telephone company office told The Freeman this morning that approximately 150 workers in the Kingston area will be affected by the new contract.

The agreement still must be ratified, however, by members of the independent Empire State Telephone Workers Organization, which bargains for about 6,500 employees.

Old Pact Ended in June

The old contract expired June 14. Federal Mediator Frank X. Mascola was called in after negotiations became deadlocked over

Will Sign Pact Monday Ending Cement Strike

CATSKILL, N. Y. (AP)—Company and union representatives will meet Monday to sign a contract ending a strike over seniority rights that has shut the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. near here since June 10.

Details for return to work for the 235 employees also will be arranged then.

Negotiators reached an agreement to end the dispute Friday at a 10-hour meeting in Albany, State Mediator Ernest Lanoue reported. The union ratified the agreement at a meeting in Catskill last night.

Lanoue said the dispute involved seniority provisions for filling jobs in the plant's maintenance and electrical departments. Wages and hours were not at issue.

The Old Contract, Between the Company and Local 129 of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union, expired April 30.

Will Get Full Pay
A spokesman for Local 129 told The Freeman this morning that everything was settled to the complete satisfaction of the union. He said that the strikers will receive full retroactive pay, and the formula for security and seniority rights, both matters at issue, were resolved.

The company wanted to award all jobs according to the written contract. The union sought to continue verbal agreements which would award all job vacancies according to the contract, except electrician and machinist vacancies which would be awarded on seniority unless the union thinks the senior man could not do the job.

It was reported that these points in the verbal agreements were incorporated in the new contract.

The 12-week strike also idled 11 laboratory employees laid off due to the lack of work at the plant.

Labor and management officials will confer this weekend on arrangements for resumption of operations at the Greene County plant, it was reported.

Chou Asks New Peace Talks Red China Builds Up Forces

Big, Fast Ships Add To Threat Actual Shooting Slackens in Area

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist China is moving faster and heavier naval power toward the explosive Formosa Strait area, the chief military spokesman for Nationalist China said today.

The reported buildup of Red seapower is increasing the threat to Nationalist-held offshore islands, Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-tu said.

Could Hurt Supply Route

More Communist warships could be used to intensify Red efforts to cut off the Nationalist supply route from Formosa to the islands and would be needed to cover any invasion attempt against the islands.

Indications mounted on Formosa, meanwhile, that the Nationalists are preparing to bomb the Communist mainland if the Reds begin massive artillery or bombing attacks on Quemoy. Liu said in an interview, "Intelligence reports trickling in indicate (the Communists) are moving bigger naval units in from the northern area. Up to now they've used only smaller type torpedo boats against us."

Gunboats Sent South

The admiral said reports indicated the Reds were sending south from the Shanghai, Tsingtao and Yangtze River areas gunboats resembling the 300-ton Kronstadt and the 900-ton Riga class warships of the Soviet navy. The Red torpedo boats now in the strait are less than 100 tons, Liu added.

With both sides in the vest pocket war jockeying for position, actual shooting had slackened off.

No Shelling Today

The Communists gave no indication of carrying out last week's threat of redoubled bombardments however. Up to mid-afternoon, the Nationalist Defense Ministry had no reports of shelling since Friday, which was the lightest day since the Red shelling of Quemoy started two weeks ago.

The indications of just-in-case bombing preparations came after a top U.S. official in Washington said the complex of new Communist

Fox Resigns Post As CA President

Howard L. Fox, who was recently named Economy Party candidate for the office of county treasurer, has resigned as president and member of the board of directors of the Kingston Civic Association.

The resignation was submitted to the board of directors at a meeting held this week at his home, 33 Grand View Avenue.

Fox told the board of directors that since the by-laws of the association provide that any person running for public office may not hold office or be a director in the association, he was submitting his resignation. On motion of Benson Krom the resignation was accepted with regret.

Vice President Ralph Heppner will serve as acting president until the next general election.

Interrupts Newport Vacation

Ike Back for Talks On Orient, Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House today for a round of talks on the Far East Crisis, school integration and other matters.

He flew back from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., arriving in his private plane, Columbine III at 10:36 a.m. (EDT).

700,000 Vehicles Travel Thruway, 29 Small Mishaps

ALBANY—Concerted efforts by Thruway officials, and the state police, plus excellent cooperation from safety-conscious motorists, combined to provide an exceptionally safe Labor Day weekend on the New York State Thruway, according to the expressway's chief executive officer, Colonel Clinton B. F. Brill.

More than 700,000 passenger cars, trucks and buses used the road over the four-day period, and they traveled a total of nearly 47½ million miles without an accident involving fatalities or even serious injuries. There were only 29 minor accidents in which no one was seriously injured, Colonel Brill noted.

Effective Planning

This superb safety record was made possible, Colonel Brill said, by the pre-holiday planning that is possible on a controlled toll road such as the Thruway. This planning included increased policing of the road's 506 miles, close coordination between the state police and emergency and maintenance crews situated strategically along the road's length, and even reversal of traf-

The President planned to spend several hours in Washington and return to Newport this evening to resume his vacation.

Early this week it was announced that Eisenhower would return to Washington today to be host at a late afternoon White House reception for a group of American, British and Canadian college educators—members and guests of the American Assn. of Universities.

Will Meet Dulles

Later he booked meetings with Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and a goodbye visit with his economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hague, who has resigned to return to private business.

The President also arranged a White House luncheon conference on the Far East situation and other matters, with Secretary of State Dulles.

They will size up again the Red China threats to invade the Chinese Nationalist offshore islands, and any development since they conferred in Newport on that matter for an hour and 45 minutes Thursday.

The upshot of that meeting was a Dulles announcement that Eisenhower will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of Quemoy and other Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland—if the President decides they are essential to security of the main Chiang Kai-shek bastion, Formosa.

To Get School Briefing

Late Friday the summer White House announced Eisenhower also would confer in Washington with Atty. Gen. Rogers. The conference topic as put by Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty:

"The various pending matters before the courts on the subject of (school) integration."

Hagerty declined to provide any detail. But the Eisenhower-Rogers talks almost certainly will deal in part with the impact of the impending U.S. Supreme Court decision—probably by midmonth—

Conference Of Envoys Suggested Reiterates Claim Over Island Group

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China's Premier Chou En-Lai today called on the United States to resume ambassador level talks "to make another effort for the defense of peace."

Chou's statement, made in a Chinese language broadcast, said "the Chinese government is now prepared to resume the ambassador level talks to make another effort for the defense of peace."

His First Comment

Chou reiterated Red China's claim that Formosa and Pescadores islands have always been Chinese territory and it was "Chinese internal affair to exercise Chinese sovereignty and to liberate these areas."

The broadcast was the first comment made by Chou on the tense Formosa Strait situation.

The talks Chou wants resumed broke up last Dec. 12 in Geneva. They were opened in 1955 between U.S. Ambassador Alexis U. Johnson and Red China's Wang Ping-nan.

The implication of Chou's statement was that Red China now wants to bring the Formosa Strait pocket war into the diplomatic field.

Similar Demand Before

On June 30, Red China made a similar demand for a resumption of the Geneva talks. A Peiping radio broadcast said then that if Washington took no action on resuming the talks by July 14, it would be considered responsible for breaking off the talks. Red China then threw in a threat against Formosa.

The talks were started in 1955 to negotiate the release of 40 Americans held in Red China and other issues. When most of the Americans were released, the talks switched to other issues between the two nations, including a U.S. demand for a pledge by Red China not to use force in the Formosa Strait area.

Four Still Held

Four Americans are still in prison in Red China.

After the 73rd meeting last December, the talks adjourned with no future meetings set. Ambassador Johnson later was transferred to another post and Edwin W. Martin, first secretary of the U.S. Embassy in London, was appointed.

Storm Moves Into Texas, Threat Dims

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Tired tropical storm Ella moved gently into Texas today with intermittent downpours and swelling seas and squalls along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The U.S. Weather Bureau's 4 a.m. (CST) advisory, last planned on Ella, said, "Lower all warnings. Small craft along Texas and Louisiana coasts should remain in port until squalls and seas subside."

Eight Towns Evacuated

At least eight small towns had been evacuated as Ella moved toward the Texas coast and about 1,000 persons, including many tourists, left Mustang Island, about 16 miles from Corpus Christi.

The storm moved inland with little rumpus and at 4 a.m. (CST) was about 20 miles west of Corpus Christi. The Weather Bureau said winds 30 to 40 m. p. h. would continue along the Texas and extreme west Louisiana coasts today and diminish tonight.

Expects Tides to Fall

High tides along the coast also were expected to fall today, the Weather Bureau said.

Tides along the middle and upper Texas coasts were running near four feet and were expected

Problems Still Ahead Despite Buying Spree

NEW YORK (AP)—Plus signs dotted the business scene this week.

The advent of Labor Day signalled the start of the fall season—busiest of the year for many businessmen.

Memories of recession faded fast. Consumers, cheered by signs of recovery, stepped up their buying in the nation's retail stores. Manufacturers of a host of products ranging from bulldozers to stereophonic hi-fi sets reported a rising flow of incoming orders. The frenzied inventory knockdown of recent months seemed to have slowed to a crawl.

Not All Cloudless

The picture was not entirely cloudless. Uncertainties loomed on the far horizon—the threat of a crippling auto strike, the chance that a swing toward right money might nip recovery in the bud, the disturbing possibility of new warlike moves around Formosa.

But by and large, there was every indication that the post-Labor Day pickup would continue. Although bogged down in labor difficulties, the auto industry was betting heavily on a good year in 1959.

L. L. Colbert, president of recession-plagued Chrysler Corp., declared: "We are anticipating and planning for a year in which between 5½ and 6 million passenger cars will be sold at retail in the United States. This compares with estimated retail sales of about 4,600,000 in 1958 x x x. We appear to be on our way out of recession."

Fight for Comeback

Chrysler Corp. spent 150 million dollars redesigning its Imperial, Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge and Plymouth lines for 1959 after its 1958 cars failed to score. The company lost $25,200,000 on its 1958 models in the first six months this year. Also fighting for a comeback this week were manufacturers of TV sets, office machines, freezers, washing machines, kitchen cabinets and automatic dryers.

Businessmen still faced plenty of king-sized problems. Eastern railroads complained loudly about passenger losses—several demanded lower taxes and higher fares. A National Retail Merchants survey found department and

New Miss America Begins Year Long Reign Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss America will be crowned tonight and start her year-long reign as holder of the oldest national beauty title.

Two Southern girls, Miss Alabama and Miss North Carolina, won in the third round of preliminary judging Friday night. They are among the 52 contenders for the fame and fortune that goes to the final winner of the Miss America pageant.

Miss Alabama, a rabbit's foot tucked inside her costume, won the night's talent competition with a song from the musical "South Pacific."

Miss North Carolina, whose favorite sport is swimming, was declared tops in the swim suit division by the 11 judges who watched her walk down the runway at Convention Hall. She is Betty Lee Evans, 18, of Greenville, N. C., who stands 5-5½, weighs 112 pounds and measures 34-21-34½.

The lucky charm was stowed away inside the loose fitting sash or suit she wore during a rendition of the song and dance "Honkyton," performed by the character Nellie Forbush in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical.

When her name was called as a preliminary winner, Miss Thornberry said she "just lost all control of myself."

"It was the same feeling I had when my mother bought my first pair of dancing shoes," she said.

An only child, the 21-year-old Miss Thornberry is a senior at Birmingham-Southern College and automatically gets a $1,000 scholarship as a preliminary talent champion.

Miss Evans is the daughter of a deacon and elder at Red Oak Christian Church, named the National Rural Church of the Year in 1954. She herself is organist there.

In addition to swimming, the

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Sam Walter Foss' faith in God made him a friend of man. The journalist, humorist, librarian and poet of last century America believed that great art was created by him "who understands man, knows the heart of him, loves him above all the rest."

I talked with his daughter in Massachusetts and she remembers her father's "strong faith." A minister once hailed him as a preacher in poetry. His inspired lines of "The House by the Side of the Road" live as one of America's most popular poems: "Let me live in my house by the side of the road, Where the race of men go by— They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong, Wise, foolish—so am I; Then why should I sit in the corner's seat, Or hurl the cynic's ban? Let me live in my house by the side of the road And be a friend to man."

CHURCHES IN AMERICA—Over 104 million Americans—an estimated 61 per cent of the population—were listed as members of churches and synagogues in 1957. So reports the National Council of Churches, an interfaith organization embracing 33 constituent communions, in its latest Yearbook of American Churches. This percentage is the second highest on record (62 per cent in 1956) and nearly double that at the turn of the century. Chart above shows some of the figures complied by the council's Bureau of Research and Survey, covering 255 church bodies in this country. One difficulty in assembling membership figures is the fact that churches use different methods of counting, some including all baptized infants and others only those who have sought and attained membership. Besides membership rise, there were increases in Sunday School enrollment, contributions and new church construction, the latter at an all-time high of 868 million dollars.

Memorial

In loving memory of our darling Mom Annie Pearce who departed this life 12 years ago Sept. 7, 1946.

If we could somehow lift the Veil and see as Angels do.

The happiness our loved ones know.

We would be happy too.

At home on the beautiful hills of God.

By valleys of rest so fair.

Someday, sometime when our task is done.

With joy we shall meet her there.

Tonchi Flames

strumental in checking the flames after a fire started in the dining room. "Without the fire we would have lost everything," he told The Freeman.

The dining room beams ("open timbers") were "mostly" from the west coast, Relyea said, a costly loss.

He said some beautiful antiques were burned, two in particular on which "I would not dare set a price." One of these was a Welsh cabinet, another an imported buffet.

He said all the silver was lost, a quantity of pewter, hundreds of blankets stored in closets, as well as furniture and kitchen equipment, such as three refrigerators, dishwashers, etc.

Relyea said the building was "mostly wood" with stone foundations. He told The Freeman he could look from his quarters and see the burned wing and that it was a shame to look over there and see it. "Ten men employed on the property are keeping an eye on the smoldering ruins to keep it from breaking out again."

Praises Departments

"It looked at though thousands of cars came up the road," he said. The work of the sheriff's department which had deputies at the scene, Under-sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown, and the fire police of the various companies for their work in opening the access roads.

Relyea said firemen did a "fine job" in containing the fire and saving the rest of the structure. He said he checked the fire in good condition, eliminating that as a possible source of the fire.

Had Good Start

Fire Chief Henry Gleich of the West Hurley Fire Department said today that the fire must have had a "tremendous pre-burn" before it was discovered. It must have burned for a considerable length of time before it broke out.

He said he was going to the scene this afternoon to investigate further. The fire may have had an electrical origin, it is believed.

He said approximately half of the main building was destroyed. The fire was "stopped in its tracks" when fire equipment reached the scene but "battling it backwards" put it out took hours.

Crowd Grew in Way

He explained that one of the major problems faced by fire departments were spectators — "just everybody within 50 miles was there." Operations were hampered, not only by automobiles but by people walking to the scene.

Chief Gleich said firemen put salvage covers over some of the furniture but that considerable water damage was done.

A number of small fires were ignited in the surrounding woods. A falling sparks. Fire rangers were notified and reportedly had the blazes under control this morning.

At the scene were:

Olive Fire Department, three companies under Chief Albert Fox with about 60 volunteers and four pieces of equipment.

Woodstock Fire Department, three companies, 40 men and two pieces of fire apparatus under Chief George Haythorne.

West Hurley Fire Department, three companies of 65 men and three pieces of equipment under Chief Gleich.

Ulster Hose Company No. 5 sent one piece of equipment to West Hurley to cover that area. A fire from Ulster Hose was dispatched to the fire scene with coffee and sandwiches for volunteers.

The Stone Ridge Fire Department protected the Olive district.

The Woodstock Fire Department left the scene about 3:30 a. m. Olive about 4:30 and West Hurley about 6:30 a. m.

The present boundaries of Glasco Water District includes only 400 feet of the east side of Route 9W. The proposed extension would increase the limits of the district about 1,292 feet at Kings Village and more than 800 feet at Garden Circle.

Frank Campochiaro of Glasco, attorney for the PM Building Corp., developers of the two housing projects submitted the petition.

He advised the Town Board that the extensions would cost less than $20,000 and that the firm he represents would assume the expense of extending the district beyond the 400 foot limit.

Campochiaro said that if the extension is approved, the PM Corp. would make arrangements with Baker Brothers Construction Co., to install the water mains and hydrants. Baker Bros. installed the Glasco system in 1951.

Supervisor Williams estimated that the two developments would add approximately $100,000 assessed valuation to the town's assessment rolls.

The 40 petitioners represent approximately $45,000 of the assessed valuation of the area placed at about $63,000.

If no serious objection against the extension are raised at the public hearing, and the Town Board approves the project, the proposal will be directed to the State Department of Audit and Control for their approval. Supervisor Williams said.

Rural Mail Delivery Begins at Mt. Marion

The new rural free delivery mail route through Mt. Marion Park becomes effective today.

Residents will have the option of continuing to pick up their mail at Mt. Marion Post Office or receiving mail in a box in front of their door. The mail box must be installed by the resident.

A post office representative made calls in the development last week to brief residents on the proper installation of the mail boxes.

The addition of the rural route increases the Saugerties routes to five.

Residents who have a Post Office box at the Mt. Marion Post Office may continue to pick up their mail there.

Adult Classes Will Be Delayed This Year

The Adult Education program in the Saugerties Central Schools System will begin a little later this year than usual because some of the school buildings are not yet completely ready.

The opening dates and a list of the classes to be offered will be published soon. Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties Schools said today.

Activities Scheduled

Centerville Home Extension Service meets at noon Wednesday, Sept. 17.

A covered dish luncheon will be served prior to the meeting. Each person attending will bring their own place setting in addition to a covered dish.

Saxton Fire Company holds its regular meeting Thursday in the firehouse at 8 p. m.

The regular meeting of Malden-West Camp Fire Company will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in West Camp firehouse. Last month's meeting was also scheduled in West Camp due to the primary elections held in the Malden station.

Saugerties Board Okays Purchase Of $21,750 Truck

The purchase of a new Snow Fighter plow truck with automatic sander costing $21,750 was approved at a special meeting of Saugerties Town Board members at the Town Hall this morning.

The purchase was approved following a conference with Harry Barkak, distributor for the Walters Company. Supervisor Peter M. Williams said today.

The new equipment will be delivered the latter part of October.

The new truck will have a wing blade and removable sander.

The truck was purchased on the recommendation of Town on whether integration should be resumed or delayed at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

Another likely aspect of the talks was how the federal government will deal with any defiance this year of court-ordered integration.

During his brief Washington stay the President also plans to act on 18 bills, last of more than 300 that Congress sent to him shortly before it adjourned two weeks ago.

Phone Worker Killed In Thruway Crash

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — William Edward Deegan, 24-year-old maintenance and repair man for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. at White Plains, was killed early today when his car went out of control on the Thruway and plunged down an embankment.

Deegan, who was unmarried, lived with his parents in New York City.

The U. S. threat was matched by an unofficial one from Moscow. In the strongest Soviet denunciation of the West since the 1956 Suez crisis, Soviet newspapers and broadcast media indicated the Soviet Union and Red China may be about to join in some decisive action, diplomatic or otherwise.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said any spread of hostilities over the offshore islands would provoke Communist retaliation throughout the Far East.

Western diplomats in Moscow sensed an approaching climax to the crisis as Premier Khrushchev cut short his vacation in the south to return to the Soviet capital. He told a visitor he was dealing with urgent matters, would stay in Moscow a few days, then resume his holiday.

Democrats Name Sander to Run For Town JOP

Frederick D. Sander Sr., of Shultis Corners was named as Democratic candidate for Town justice of the peace at a special meeting of the Town Democratic Committee held Friday night in the Town Hall.

Sander is a past president of Saugerties Parent-Teachers Association and is active in Civil Defense and the Centerville Fire Company.

He will run in November for the unexpired term of the late Percy A. Brierley.

Republican incumbent, Attorney William D. Brinnier, III was appointed in December to fill the vacancy until the next election.

Brinnier is expected to be nominated by the Town Republican Committee which meets tonight at 8 o'clock in the Town Hall.

Both will run for the one year unexpired term.

Eugene F. Thornton served as presiding chairman of the Democratic meeting.

Town Chairman John J. Kaminski nominated Sander, and the nomination was seconded by Robert L. Jones.

The committee discussed plans for a town rally to be held in October. County and local candidates are expected to attend the rally.

Army Promises Site

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—A group of teen-agers say the First Army has promised to assign them a site for launching rockets near here.

James P. Budrakey, 16, of Troy, was elected as president of the group, which organized Friday as the Hudson-Mohawk Rocket Society. He says it has about 30 members.

Safety supervision of any launches is to be provided by the Troy police.

To Sell Upstate Bank

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—The Adirondack National Bank & Trust Co., which has assets of about 10 million dollars, will be sold to the Northern New York Trust Co., a member of the Marine Midland banking group.

Directors of the 66-year-old Adirondack National announced the impending sale Friday. The price was not disclosed.

Superintendent of Highways William Brown at Thursday night's meeting of the Town Board.

It was brought out at the meeting that the town is accepting miles of new roads being constructed in the various housing developments in the township.

Supervisor Williams said the new truck will provide better service during the winter months when snow removal is necessary. He said that the town now services 158 miles of town roads.

At the Thursday meeting, the board accepted the deed for a 2,100 foot section of Appletree Drive in Windemere, Barclay Heights.

Other dedications of roads to be added to the town are pending, Williams said.

Woman, 24, Killed In Upstate Crash

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Mary G. Grover, 24, of Trumansburg, was injured fatally when two cars collided at a country intersection five miles from here Friday.

The driver of the other car, Edmund S. Worden, 75, of Seneca Falls, was taken to a hospital, where his condition was reported today as fair.

Mrs. Grover's one-year-old son was hurt seriously although he was thrown from the car.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (17)—Building the Space Station

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) Enormous difficulties must be overcome before the building of a permanent manned space station is feasible. But its construction will be easy in one respect, if only in one: The absence of gravity (actually, Earth's gravity canceled by centrifugal force in orbit) will enable men to maneuver huge girders and plates about like feathers.

On the other hand, the human problem alone will be tremendous. Each worker's spacesuit must be a self-contained "world." The need for eating and sleeping quarters will limit the number of men able to work at one time. Sudden movements from shadow into unfiltered sunlight will be a real danger to a worker's eyes. Spacesuit failure will mean death. Other factors, some as yet unknown, may cut actual working time to a few hours.

(2) A strange-looking craft is this cargo ferry or space taxi. Platforms like this will scurry about in orbit, gathering materials and supplies from cargo rockets.

(3) Recent discovery, by means of the tiny Vanguard I satellite, of a band of hitherto unsuspected intense radiation some 600 miles above the Earth may seriously hinder man's dream of space travel. Some sort of protective "suit" such as this may be required for any prolonged stay in space.

A thick, lead-lined cylinder, it is a tiny spaceship in its own right. Explorer IV now in orbit is probing the nature and extent of this strange band of radiation.

(4) Months will be required to construct the shell of the space station. Then more months to finish the interior, install instruments and equipment. Here, the completed station is ready to be provisioned. Zero gravity condition at the hub facilitates the loading of supplies. In the central ball, spacesuits can be removed. Tubes lead to the main sections of the station in the rim.

American Schools Are Too Soft, Says Former General

PALO ALTO, Calif.—Americans as a people must learn discipline and the meaning of hard work if this country is to survive in the race for world leadership. James H. Doolittle, vice president and director of Shell Oil Company, told a group of educators here.

"Russia," Doolittle said "has just completed its sixth 5-year plan and we are only beginning to appreciate the emphasis she is placing on programs to advance the education to her people, her industrial capacity, and her military strength."

Speaking before members of a science-education seminar at Stanford University, the famed Air Force general stated the rate of progress in these fields has surpassed our own.

Addresses Teachers

Doolittle was principal speaker at the final banquet-meeting of 50 high school teachers attending Stanford on Merit Fellowships awarded by Shell Companies Foundation, Inc.

The teachers, selected by the University from schools throughout 21 states are completing an 8-week seminar devoted to latest teaching techniques and technollogical advancements in their respective fields of chemistry, physics and math.

"I do not condone or advocate the Russian dictatorial approach to education," Doolittle said. "But I do believe ours is too soft. Our children must be disciplined to apply themselves to their studies while they are in the elementary grades."

His Advice
"Our students should receive more science at the secondary level, but not at the sacrifice of the humanities. This means longer hours, 'harder work.' On this foundation, the college curriculum can assure our nation future generations of good scientists who will at the same time be good world citizens," he concluded.

In addition to more strict education for our public schools, Doolittle advocated a greater effort to provide additional classrooms, more well-trained teachers and a program to furnish greater incentives and higher pay for the teachers.

Sub-Leases Commodore

NEW YORK (AP)—Zeckendorf Hotels Corp. has subleased for 9 million dollars the 2,000-room Commodore Hotel.

The transaction, announced Friday, places five hotels under Zeckendorf management. The four others are the Astor, the Manhattan, the Drake and the Chatham.

Tuscaroras Ask Harlan to Stay Order on Land

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York's Tuscarora Indians today turned to Supreme Court Justice Harlan in a new effort to keep 1,383 acres of their tribal lands from going into the 625-million-dollar Niagara Falls power project.

Harlan agreed to hear arguments on the tribe's plea that a mandate of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals, affirming condemnation of the lands, be stayed pending final action on a request for a full review of the case by the Supreme Court.

Move Denied June 24

Judge Justin C. Morgan of the U. S. District Court for Western New York denied last June 24 a Tuscarora motion for a permanent injunction to block the New York State Power Authority for use as a reservoir in connection with the power project.

Morgan also ruled there was no constitutional question involved and he said the matter of compensation for the Indian land was a question for the state courts.

The Indians, appealed Morgan's decision in the Circuit Court of Appeals and lost. The Circuit Court also refused an application for reargument.

It is the Circuit Court decision that the Tuscaroras seek to have set aside. Their first step would be to have Harlan grant a stay which would have the effect of stopping everything in the case pending a full review by the high court.

Full Court Next Step

If Harlan grants the stay, the next step is for the Indians to file their formal appeal for consideration of the full court. Such appeals give the factual background of the litigation and outline the law points involved. After considering the appeal in closed conference the court makes known whether it will grant or deny a hearing. If a hearing is granted the court, in several weeks, will set a time for the appearance of attorneys before the full tribunal to argue the case.

Knife Victims

Nimers May Have Been Mistaken For Other Family

NEW YORK (AP)—Police were checking out a theory today that Dr. Melvin Nimer and his wife, slain in their Staten Island home, may have been victims of mistaken identity.

The Nimers, a Mormon couple originally from Utah, were stabbed to death early last Tuesday as they went to the rescue of their oldest child, Melvin Jr., 8, while he was being choked by an intruder. The Nimers' two infant children slept through the slayings.

Police said Friday that the Nimers, both 31, had rented the house two months ago while their own home was being built. Their landlord was Dr. John Glatfelter, 33. Both doctors were on the staff of the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital.

Authorities said the two men slightly resembled each other and that each had three children. They asked Glatfelter to supply them with a list of patients and friends—anyone who might have a grudge against him.

U. S. Scientists in Moscow

Greatest IGY Concentration Is Sun's Influence on Earth

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of four articles written for The Associated Press by prominent U. S. scientists who attended the International Geophysical Year meetings in Moscow last month. In it Dr. Scott E. Forbush discusses IGY programs in the specialized fields of geophysical and solar research.)

By DR. SCOTT E. FORBUSH
Carnegie Institution of Washington
Written for The Associated Press
The International Geophysical

Year is concentrating the greatest effort that ever has been made in the study of the earth and how it is influenced by the sun.

Around the world scientists are making observations and taking notes on the many different phenomena connected with solar activity: weather, Aurora and airglow, ionospheres which make radio transmission possible, most variations in the earth's magnetic field, all the known time-variations in the intensity of cosmic radiation.

Great Advantage
In this simultaneous observation lies one of the great advantages of the IGY.

Concentrated activity in one field of geophysics during the IGY has already led to unexpected results of great value in understanding phenomena in another branch.

One example of this was the discovery of X-rays during auroral displays. IGY cosmic ray investigators at the Universities of Iowa and Minnesota made the discovery while they were recording cosmic ray intensity at high altitudes with balloons.

These X-rays result from electrons trapped in the "frozen in" magnetic field in plasma clouds, ejected from the sun.

The electrons in these same plasma clouds are responsible for the extraordinarily high counting rates registered at great altitudes by geiger counters sent up in the U. S. satellite Explorer by the cosmic ray group at the University of Iowa.

Soviet cosmic ray investigators using detectors on the latest Sputnik observed similar, but smaller, increases in counting rates at lower altitudes.

These electron-containing plasma clouds probably produce auroral and magnetic storms—if the clouds are large enough and if the magnetic field frozen in them when they leave the sun is great enough. Through scattering effects these clouds probably cause the decreases in cosmic ray intensity which are observed during some magnetic storms.

Cosmic rays were discovered by Victor Hess in 1914. But it wasn't until about 1932 that experiments showed the primary cosmic rays, which impinge on the earth's outer atmosphere, consisted of charged particles of very high energy coming from all directions in space.

This experiment, in which the earth's permanent magnetic field played an important role, consisted of a worldwide survey of cosmic ray intensity using standardized instruments.

Activity Cuts Number

Research has shown that more cosmic rays fall at the poles than at the magnetic equator where the earth's magnetic field deflects the weaker rays. And they are found to decrease in number when the sun is active with flares and sunspots.

The systematic, high altitude balloon observations of H. V. Neher of the California Institute of Technology, made over a period of years at several latitudes up to north polar regions, definitely show that: (a) near sunspot minimum the cosmic ray intensity, near the top of the atmosphere, continues to increase with latitude all the way to the poles, and (2) near sunspot maximum, the intensity is constant north of about 50 degrees magnetic latitude.

Results obtained with cosmic ray nuclear component monitors by Dr. J. A. Simpson at the University of Chicago in the U. S. IGY program show a decrease of nearly 25 per cent in intensity from sunspot minimum in 1954 to sunspot maximum in 1957.

Pre-investigation of time variations of cosmic ray intensity, in connection with results from other IGY projects, will undoubtedly provide valuable results for better understanding electromagnetic phenomena in the solar system.

Why We Say--
OLD BUDDIES 7-6
SOLDIER'S TERM: The expression, "buddy," was at first applied by the Scots and English to children as a term of endearment. It was used for offspring in the sense of buds on plants. In World War I American soldiers picked up the word in Europe and used it to designate close friends.

THIS TIME MARTIN'S THE STAR—Henny Youngman, who uses hairstyling quips to collect nice fat television paychecks, is leaving it all up to J. Martin as he does an exclusive for Mrs. Youngman at his salon, 3 North Front Street. Judging from the smile, however, Henny is not missing the chance to get in some funny lines. Mrs. Youngman is unconcerned. She knows Martin as a hairstylist for 10 years—and she's used to Henny's jokes. The Youngmans have a residence in Lake Hill, where the nationally famous comedian enjoys his summers, provided he can be taking a stroll when his agent calls. What's one of Henny's funny ones? Ever hear this: Three days ago that girl was a brunette, two days ago a blonde, today she's a redhead. That woman has a convertible top. (Pennington photo)

Spray Paints For Small Jobs

Paints in aerosol spray cans are a convenience for small jobs. But before you use them, keep a few things in mind.

DO . . . know that many leading paint manufacturers are packaging paints, enamels, lacquers, etc., in aerosol spray cans for touch-up jobs, hard-to-reach places and small objects.

DO . . . before using, shake the aerosol can vigorously, then turn it upside down and spray a few bursts of gas to clear the nozzle.

DO . . . hold the can 12 to 14 inches from the surface being sprayed to prevent a bubbly, saggy result.

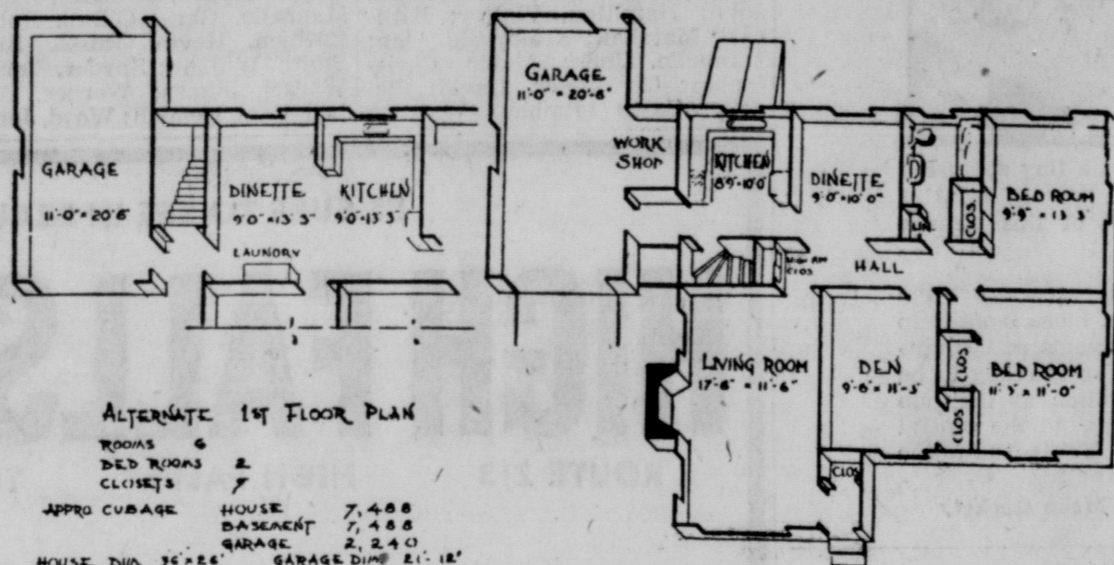

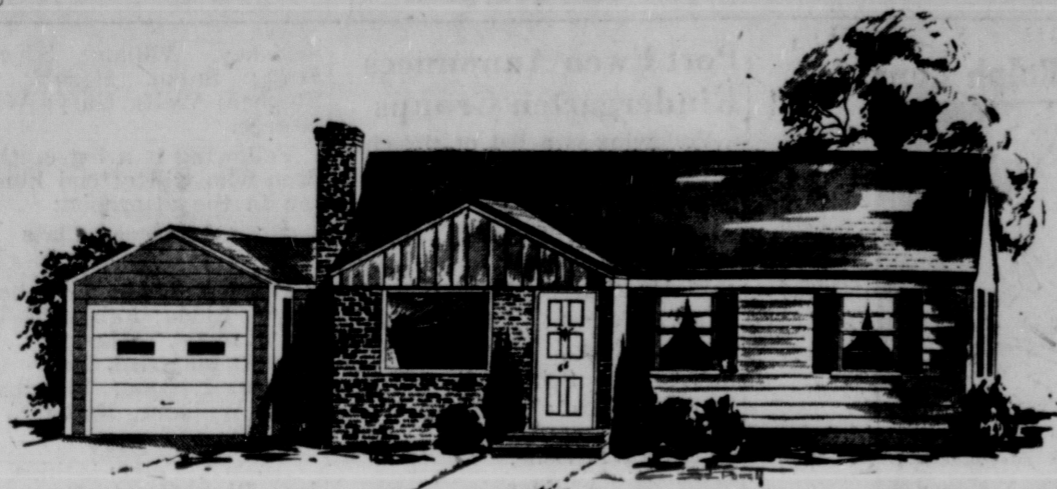

DO . . . make sure that the can is not too cold. This will cause a drop in the gas pressure.

DON'T . . . store aerosol paint cans in temperatures of over 120 degrees; avoid exposure in sunny window areas and the back seats of autos, for instance.

DON'T . . . puncture the can or throw empty cans into incinerators or rubbish fires.

DON'T . . . let the paint pile up in one spot or hold the can too close, either of which causes runs and sags.

DON'T . . . think the can is empty if only clear gas is coming out; try giving the valve head half a turn, which will dip the curved, inside tube into the paint solution.

'The Levek' Has Alternate Kitchen Plans

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Six
Cubage
House 15,000
Garage 2,240
Dimensions 36 x 26
Overall 52

Cozy in appearance and comfortable to live in, "The Levek," today's Home of the Week, has alternate kitchen plans that give you an unusual opportunity to arrange the space in your house to suit your needs plus an excellent overall interior layout carefully planned to make the most of the available space.

Dimensions of this delightful house are 36 by 26 feet; measurements of the garage are 21 by 12 feet. Cubage of the house is 7488 feet while the cubage of the garage is 2240 feet. An 80-foot lot would be required.

'Dressy Touch.'

As you can see in the architect's sketch a combination finish gives a "dressy" touch that harmonizes with the simple, home-like features of this house. Any type of location would make a fine setting.

Since there are nine closets in this six-room dwelling, storage should present no problems.

And, since these good-sized closets are all centrally located, stored items are within easy reach whenever you want them.

Two bedrooms are provided, but should you need a third you'll find that the den can serve this purpose very well. The den can serve as a guest room, too, if this arrangement is more convenient.

Dinette

Taking the place of both a regular dining room and a breakfast nook, the dinette is a pleasant room. The kitchen itself is strictly a work center where all your cupboards, cabinets and appliances are close at hand.

In the original plan the dinette is to the right of the kitchen with the stairs to the basement opening off the kitchen. Those families who prefer more interior room will probably prefer the alternate plan suggested.

In this second plan the stairs to the basement are placed between the house and garage taking up the area given over to a workshop in the first plan. Kitchen and dinette then exchange positions to give you a roomier kitchen than is possible with the other interior arrangement.

First Floor Laundry

In the alternate plan there is sufficient space also, for a first floor laundry. But whichever plan best suits your taste and needs, you're certain to have a comfortable well planned home if you select "The Levek."

Install your heating equipment under the living room. If you don't have a first-floor laundry, place the washer, etc., under the kitchen.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Address requests, mentioning name of home to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

Tips on Fixing Outdoor Furniture

Outdoor furniture that has served years may look disreputable when you bring it out of storage. Chances are, a few minor repairs and coats of paint will make it look, and be, as good as new.

When joints of wooden outdoor furniture are loose, it is usually because the screws have been eaten by rust, or because their holes have become enlarged. Remove the old screws. If the holes have become enlarged, fill them with plastic wood. After the filler has hardened overnight, drive in the screws—new screws if the old ones are rust-eaten.

Cracks are easily filled with the plastic wood. If there are signs of rot where the legs come in contact with the ground, cut away the soft, decayed wood with a sharp knife and use the plastic wood again to fill the cavities. To prevent further rot, coat the bottoms of the legs with a wood preservative.

Porch, Floor Enamel Tough, Hard-Wearing

Porch and floor enamel is a tough, hard-wearing covering for interior and exterior surfaces such as porches, stairs, floors, dadoes, boat decks—of wood or metal. Spreading capacity is about 500 square feet per gallon, one coat. It's easy to apply, needs no primer or sealer. One coat hides all but the most badly worn surfaces. Bare wood or metal, however, needs two coats. Use a 3-inch brush and work with the length of the board.

Bath Off Patio

With the trend to outdoor living, the place most people want a bath or powder room, is just inside the patio entranceway. It eliminates, for both families and guests, the trudging upstairs.

For Interior Beams

Enhance the beauty of interior beams and rafters by coating with thinned, white shellac that is fresh. The beams and rafters are sometimes antiqued before the shellac is applied.

Tips for Working In Kitchen Area

The extension service of Purdue University has the following tips for planning work areas in kitchens:

For freedom of movement, a minimum clearance of four feet is needed in front of each piece of kitchen equipment. Five to seven feet is more desirable.

At least one base cabinet, counter and wall cabinet should be adjacent to each major appliance that is, refrigerator, sink and oven. The most efficient arrangement is a continuous production line of appliances with adjacent cabinets and counters unbroken by doors or traffic lanes. For right-handed workers, the sequence normally progresses from right to left in this order: mixing center, sink center, range-serving center.

What Floor Plan?

Your best floor plan needs are determined by a study of the family's traffic patterns.

How to Paint Shutters

Painting shutters and screens is a clumsy job. After you paint one side you have to be careful that the paint doesn't smudge. Before starting, screw two hooks near each end in the frame. Attach a coat hanger to an overhead pipe and hook the shutter or screen onto the hanger. Paint one side and then turn the hanger—with shutter or screen along with it—and start the other side.

Large Area Resort Hotels Have Good Summer Business

The larger resort hotels in Ulster and Greene Counties had an excellent season while smaller places reported a five to 10 per cent decrease in tourist business, a survey of the State Department of Commerce revealed today.

Catskill resorts in Sullivan County reported more visitors than last year, but spending was less. The Sullivan County report also indicated that small hotels and bungalow colonies did poorly.

Report August Good

Resort owners reported a good August which partly offset a poor July. Most large resort hotels did well or better than 1957. Medium hotels reported business very spotty.

Tourist attractions and motels did business far ahead of last year because of heavier traffic. Monticello Raceway was reported having a successful first season following slow opening weeks.

In a summation of the overall picture State Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson said that despite the rainy and heatless summer, at least half of New York State's vacation resorts were able to do as well as or better than last year.

Weather a Factor

Weather, usually a determining factor in the tourist-vacation business, marred what was expected to be even bigger than last year's record season. The U. S. Weather Bureau in Albany reported the coldest June since 1816. More than half of July was rainy and cloudy. While August did not have much rain, it had only brief periods of hot weather, the Weather Bureau said.

A spot check made by the Department of Commerce showed that the northern and central mountain areas of the Adirondacks and the beaches of Long Island were unable to overcome the effects of the early summer weather to reach last year's peak business.

The number of campers reached a new high this summer—270,160—10½ per cent over 1957. Total number of persons at the state campsites, which included campers, as well as bathers and picnickers, was 994,750, an increase of 2.2 per cent. Thruway figures from Memorial Day through Labor Day were 10,350,000, compared with 8,700,000 for the same period last year, an increase of 15 per cent.

Shows Decrease

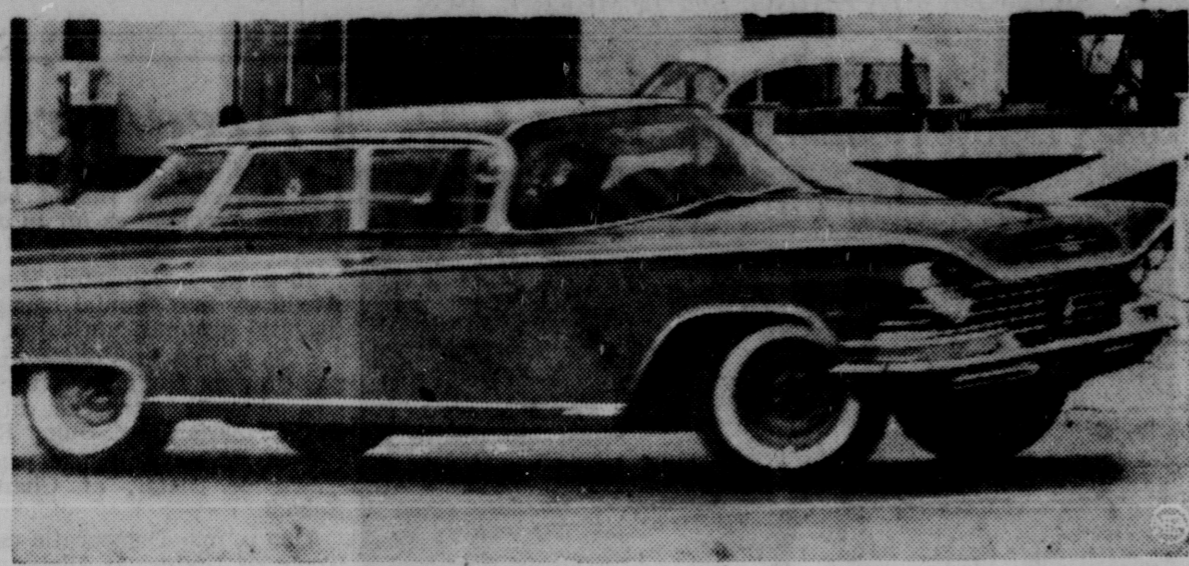

State parks were visited by 22,988,273 this year against 23,294,555 last year, a decrease of 1.1 per cent. Big increases were shown in the Palisades and Taconic Parks, four per cent in the former and 18 per cent in the latter. The Thousand Island parks were up one per cent.

Park systems elsewhere were off as follows: Allegheny, one-and-one-half per cent; Central New York, two; Finger Lakes, six; Genesee, less than one and Niagara, two. Most decreases occurred at the park's bathing beaches. For example, in the Genesee region, attendance was down about 17,000 at Hamlin Beach, while up about 12,000 at Letchworth State Park.

Regional associations and chambers of commerce gave the Department of Commerce the reports.

Renewing Fiber Rugs

Faded fiber rugs can be given a fresh outlook if they are painted or stained. Thin paint does fine or you can use a hot fabric dye. Don't do this indoors because the thinned paint or dye will soak through the rug and stain the floor underneath.

Roof Drain System Needs Yearly Check

Spring time is clean up and paint up time around the house. Be sure to check the finish of the gutters and downspouts. If there are any corroded places or areas where the paint is flaking off, scrape the old finish off and apply a coat of metal primer paint to the affected area. Any loose dirt or paint should be removed from all of the gutters and downspouts by brushing with a wire brush.

A coat of matching or contrasting paint applied to the roof drainage system will do a great deal to spruce up the appearance of the home. Prior to painting the gutters they should be cleaned out and a coat of water resistant paint applied to the inside surface. This treatment will insure added years of life.

Top Authority On Middle East Will Speak Here

It has been announced that a top authority on the Middle East will speak Monday at a Special Night for Israel.

The meeting is to be held at the home of Joseph Levine, 105 Mountain View Avenue, at 8:15 p. m. to promote the 1958 sale of State of Israel Bonds.

Mr. Levine said today that Leo Lania, the speaker, has been a key personality for many years in work for the State of Israel, and is recognized as an authority on the problems of the nation now celebrating its 10th anniversary.

According to Mr. Levine, his guest was actively instrumental in rescue operation of European Jewish survivors following V-E Day, thus bringing new hope to thousands of the persecuted and oppressed.

A playwright, traveler, lecturer and foreign correspondent, former assistant to Edgar A. Mowrer on the European staff of the Chicago Daily News, Mr. Lania has promised to bring an inside, off-the-record account of meetings with top figures in the Middle East.

Mr. Levine, chairman of the board of governors of Israel Bonds in the Kingston area, urges his friends to make a special effort to attend the Monday meeting.

Sale of Israel Bonds, he pointed out, makes possible the growth of industry and agriculture in the nation, the expansion of irrigation, construction of roads, harbors and railways, greater electric power and the exploitation of natural resources.

PRACTICE BUDDY SYSTEM—Boy Scouts of Rip Van Winkle Council practice the "buddy system" at Kay-Bee Lake, Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett in accordance with the council's safe swimming practices. The "buddy system" is part of the "Eight Defense Plan" used by the council at the Greene County Boy Scout camp.

Boy Scout Council Outlines Camp Water Safety Practices

A summer does not go by without four or five drownings occurring in the Catskill area.

A good part of the drownings could have been prevented if safe swimming practices were carried out, according to a report from Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Cite Safety Records

The Red Cross, YMCA, and the Boy Scout Council have safe water activity plans that have given them top safety records.

The Boy Scouts use the "Eight Defense Plan" in camp operation and have been teaching its use so Scouts can carry it out anywhere they swim. The eight defenses are:

1. Recent physical examination.
2. Have an adult along with knowledge of water safety.
3. Check the bottom of swim area.
4. Use two best swimmers as life guards.
5. Have a lookout to watch swimmers at all times.
6. Establish swim areas by depth for non-swimmers, beginners and swimmers.
7. Use buddy system of pairing nearly equal swimmers.
8. Discipline yourself to follow rules of safe swim.

Let's apply the eight defense plan to a group going swimming. If they are of school age, chances are they have had a recent physical exam. If they are adults, an annual physical checkup is good common sense.

Having an adult or qualified life-guard in attendance is good precaution. This person can also serve as lookout for point five. Check the bottom for rocks, stumps, deep holes so you know what your diving into. The old Keystone comedies used to get a lot of laughs on people diving into shallow water ending with their head stuck in mud and their feet in the air. It ain't funny and we still crack skulls doing this one in real life.

How to Remove Wax From Linen Tablecloth

If festive candles stained your best table linen, gently scrape the hardened wax from the surface with a dull knife, then sponge the stain with cleaning fluid.

It's best to do this outdoors, away from flame. If a colored stain remains, sponge the spot with a cloth dipped in a mixture of one part rubbing alcohol to two parts of water.

In the table measures, a troy (a word seldom used in modern times) is one pound or twelve ounces.

3-Day Walkout Ends

Work to Resume Monday on Giant Generating Plant

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—work will resume Monday on the giant Lewiston generating plant, keystone of the Niagara power project.

A three-day walkout by power equipment operators that halted construction ended Friday.

A total of 750 men were idled Wednesday when 40 operators, members of Operating Engineers Local 463, walked off the job because of a number of grievances.

These included overtime, work assignments and what a union official called "promiscuous firing."

There were no pickets, but with work still in the excavation and grading stage other workers could do nothing without crane and bulldozer operators.

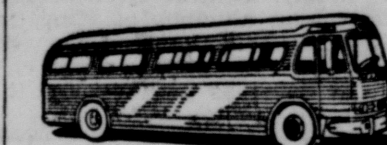

Agreement was reached Friday at a meeting between representatives of the union and the contractor, Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp.

Details were not disclosed.

Asked to Address Republican Women At Show, Sept. 13

MRS. WALTER S. McNAB

Rebecca Henning McNab, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau for New York Republican State Committee, is scheduled to address a gathering of members of Ulster County Women's Republican Club in New Paltz on September 13.

The event will be highlighted by the club's annual fashion show and will be held at the home of Mrs. Jay LeFevre, New Paltz.

A native of Saratoga Springs, Mrs. McNab has served as vice-chairman of the Schenectady County Women's Republican Club and director of women's activities during the New York State Fair held in 1932-35. She was elected first vice president of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs in 1948 and re-elected in 1950. Mrs. McNab also served as assistant to Jane H. Todd.

John L. Henning, Mrs. McNab's father, organized the first Young Republican Club in Saratoga County. Her husband, Walter S. McNab, is an attorney and the couple reside at 753 Central Parkway, Schenectady. They have one son and a daughter and four grandchildren. Mrs. McNab's daughter is Mrs. William Eigand of Williston Park, L. I. Her son, Duncan, is an attorney in Schenectady.

Set Ladies' Program At Poultry Exposition

HARRISBURG, Pa. — As the ladies of poultrydom have become full-time partners to their poultry-raising husbands, no one wants to "keep 'em down on the farm."

To get them away from the farm, the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council (NEPPCO) has arranged a special ladies' program to be held in conjunction with its giant, three-day exposition in the Farm Show Building, here Oct. 7-8-9.

A group bus tour to Boiling Springs, Pa., takes the lead-off spot in the agenda on Wednesday, Oct. 8, the second day of the big northeastern poultry get-together. Luncheon will be served at the Allenberry Inn—then the ladies will go to the Allenberry Playhouse for a matinee performance of "The Happy Time." By early evening the ladies will be back in the central city in plenty of time to pump for the Council's annual dinner and dance.

O'Brien-Decker Nuptials Are Announced Ceremony Held at Haines Falls Church

Miss Teresa Mary O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. O'Brien of East Jewett, became the bride of John James Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Decker, 632 Broadway, Saturday, Aug. 30, before a Nuptial Mass at Immaculate Conception Church, Haines Falls. The couple also received the Papal Blessing.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Father Lennihan. Vases of white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over bridal satin styled with a princess front panel of lace, fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves, pearls and sequins to deck the neckline and a bouffant skirt which swept back into a chapel train. An imported French illusion veil was secured to a queen's crown of lace, pearls and sequins. The bride carried a prayer book with white orchids trimmed with white rosebuds and pearls.

The honor attendant, Mrs. Rose Marie Beers, sister of the bride, wore a Capucine chiffon taffeta gown in princess lines with a trapeze back panel and floor length skirt. A modified picture hat in Capucine chiffon taffeta completed her outfit. She carried blue roses.

Wearing gowns of peacock chiffon taffeta were the bridesmaids, Miss Catherine O'Brien, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary McHugh, cousin of the bride. They carried Talisman roses.

The bridegroom's brother, served as best man. Ushers were Clarence T. O'Brien of East Jewett, the bride's brother, and Francis X. Clark, Mt. Marion.

The reception was held at Maple Rest, Tannersville. The bride, who completed studies at Hunter, Tannersville Central School, was graduated from Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing. She is clinical supervisor in the operating room at the Benedictine Hospital. Her husband is employed by IBM in the Plant Protection Division. He attended Kingston High School.

When Mr. and Mrs. Decker return from their wedding trip to Lake George, they will reside at 247 Smith Avenue.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Accept Him for Himself And Not for What He Can Do

At the commuters' bar where Harry K. stops in for a double martini before catching the 6:10 home, it always ends with his drinking three or four.

Let someone mention a business trip east—and he'll say too heartily, "If you drop in at the Stork, just tell Billingsley you know me."

Before he finally leaves his too-lavish tip on the bar, everyone within hearing distance has learned about the "little 15-room shack that set me back $45,000; about what his friend Senator So-and-So privately thinks of the school integration law; how you can't go wrong with one of the cigars he's got some fellows in Havana to make up especially for him.

Mr. K. doesn't enjoy bragging like this. He's deeply aware of the look of appraising contempt it always brings into people's eyes. He knows that they're seeing past the big talk to the shrinking self behind. But he can't help bragging about all the important things he can do any more than he can resist himself to one double martini.

He's one of the reasons why child training books say over and over, "Accept your child for what he is, not for what he can do."

Their plea is meaningless until we begin to connect it up with tormented people like Harry K. Even then it's not easy to act on it.

But so fruitful is even an occasional acceptance of a child for himself instead of for the important things he can do that we don't have to worry if we fail at it a lot of the time.

Accepting a child for what he is, not for what he can do is to be able to mean and say things like these: "Will you give your permission to show Grandma your final report card?"

"The fact that you like this new friend so much is all I need to know about him."

"I don't want you to tell me the truth unless you want to give it to me."

Just once in a while we accept a child for what he is, not for his ability to produce promotions, desirable friends, moral triumphs and other successes, he will not have to use his successes as a substitute for self-respect as poor Harry K. is doomed to do.

Wedge-shaped knives that have one serrated edge are excellent to use both for cutting pie and cake; they are particularly useful in serving sponge-type cakes when a sawing motion is used after the serrated edge is inserted part way.

When the Telephone Interrupts

Dear Mrs. Post: When a friend telephones me while I am looking at a television program that is especially interesting to me, must I be interrupted, or can the person calling be told to call back after the program?

Answer: To say, "Mrs. Jones is looking at television," would to most persons seem discourteous. The safest thing to say is: "Mrs. Jones is unable to come to the telephone at the moment but asks if she may call you in ten (or twenty) minutes," would be quite all right.

Twenty serving questions and answers are included in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 504, "The Etiquette of Table Setting." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Interested Judge

BOSTON (AP)—Superior Court Judge Frank J. Murray looked down from the bench at the defendants. Robert G. Schroeder, 35, and Lawrence T. Weymouth, 52, were charged with robbing the Second Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of $2,797.

"Will you inform your clients," the judge told their lawyer, "That I am a depositor in the bank they robbed, and ask if they want another judge to handle their case?" They didn't.

Depositor Murray sent them to state prison for 3-8 years each.

A NEIGHBOR'S CURIOSITY

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what I can say to a neighbor of mine who, upon seeing me leave my house, never fails to ask me where I am going?

It is not that where I go is a secret, but nevertheless I do resent having to give an account to her every time I go out. I always think that I won't tell her the next time she asks me, but then I do because I can't think of anything else to say that isn't rude. I would appreciate any suggestions you have to offer.

Answer: I think you might get into the habit of saying, "I'm just going down the street," or "I'm going uptown," or "downtown," or something equally truthful but evasive.

Saying Good-bye to Guests

Dear Mrs. Post: We live on the third floor of a walk-up apartment. Whenever we have guests visit us in the evening, my husband always walks down the stairs with them and sees them to the front door. I think this is wholly unnecessary and that saying good-bye to them at our own door is sufficient. This is a very quiet building and the halls are well lighted. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: You are right. All that you or your husband should do is to see your guests out of your own front door, which in this case happens to be on the third floor.

Stand Up and Yelp, Men,

If You Resent Housework

"Isn't there such a thing as woman's work, any more?" asks a young husband and father.

Then he goes on to explain that his wife, like most of the young wives they know, expects him to help in everything she does around the house.

"She leaves housecleaning until Saturday when I'm home to help," he says. "And she likes to market at night when I can go with her."

"She even thinks we ought to do the dishes together. We have two children, so there is plenty for her to do. But I remember that my mother had four and did all her own work, and she didn't wait until my father got home at night to help her with it, either."

"My wife is no worse about this than the other wives in our neighborhood. They all seem to think that earning a living is a man's job—but housework is supposed to be shared."

That is a fairly accurate picture of the attitude of a lot of today's young wives. The wonder is, how have they managed to make their husbands agree to that kind of setup?

If a husband thinks that earning the living should be his responsibility and keeping house ought to be his wife's why does he let her push him into the role of mama's helper?

Why doesn't he just say he expects her to have the house clean when he comes home, instead of saving the job until she has his help?

Why doesn't he let her know that he believes that if he pays for the food, she ought to see to getting it into the house and onto the table without his help? Why doesn't he stand up and be a man, instead of doing as his wife says and then complaining about it?

A wife can't turn her husband into her household helper unless he lets her.

Too many people think they are big wheels because they are going around in circles. ©NEA

What makes a Senior golfer? Is it that moment when Father Time taps him for the 50th time during his mortal stay on this universe? Or is it the moment he realizes that "50" isn't such a frightful age and, with good luck, a quarter century or more of fun and fellowship on the fairways can still be his.

The 1958 entry list includes some 22 players in the "50 to 54" bracket for the Ulster County Seniors which unfolds Sunday at Woodstock. This represents remarkable progress among the neophytes. Some men avoid an application blank for the Seniors as if it were the plague. Others take their life and fun in full stride, never so largely concerned with the calendar as they are with doing a job on Old Man Par.

Among the "others" are such as Rodney B. Osterhoudt, who was winning golf championships when some of the modern crop was roaming in rompers. And there are the hardy perennials like Carl Preston, Frank Benson (plus 80) and Bruff Olin, who has the gnarled features of an ancient oak and boyish mirth of a sophomore. These gentlemen will be cavorting in the 75-and-up bracket.

Just behind them will come a tremendous trio of Harold F. King, the Old Lion; Harry Hohnhorst, perennial Class A Champion who shot a 78 last year and Harry B. Talcott. The 50th milestone passed by these gentlemen a long time ago. They have survived the rigors of time well. They make of the signing of a Senior entry blank a mere formality. It holds no terror for them.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Leon Randall dominates the city golf domain for the second straight year. He appears to be settling in a championship groove and is unlikely to be budged for many years. There was some alarm about his form earlier in the season, but he was razor sharp by the time he came up to the Wiltwyck finals and the city playoffs. There was a curious, almost fatalistic, touch to the very first hole in the 36-hole playoff against Alvin Boice for the inter-club match game crown. On Wiltwyck's No. 1 hole, Boice fired his second shot to within five feet of the cup. Randall, shooting second, pushed his approach to far end of the green, 45 feet from the pin. Randall ran down the long putt for a birdie-3. Boice stepped up and missed his. Randall was 1-up that fast when by all standards the best he should have had was a halved hole. Boice toured Twalfskill's first four holes in 3-under-par, gained only a hole on his opponent. Was Randall lucky? Hardly. He just happened to have the championship touch when he had to.

• Birdies and Bogies:

One of the quirks of the draw in the Wiltwyck Invitational sends two club cronies—"Long John" Provenzano and "Lonesome George" Cosenza against each other. . . . Naomi Venable, several times Dutchess Golf and Country Club champion since she turned professional at IBM, recently matched the women's record of 73 at Dutchess for the third time. No woman has ever scored par 72 at the links. . . . Bill Bogle clobbered Tom Hopper, 10 and 8, in the Dutchess club's men's finals and Joe Molinaro crushed Bob Morano, 9 and 8, for the Poughkeepsie city championship at College Hill. . . . Little Jay Van Wagenen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, is touted as the 1968 Woodstock Country Club champion. . . . Oldsters play golf for free on Detroit's six municipal golf courses on weekdays upon presentation of proof that they're 65 years of age or older and receiving Social Security. . . . James Berardi, the contractor, and Bernard Feeney, the marine expert, appear to have been thoroughly smitten by the golf bug. Two musters for Ulster county golf next year—a man-and-wife tournament and a championship for women.

Dick Mayer wasn't trying to figure out how he happened to lose the beautiful game that won the 1957 U. S. Open and so-called World's championship at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter. He knows and his evaluation is a lesson for all swingers. "I've become swing conscious," explains Mayer. "I'm playing by manuscript and not naturally. Any time you start thinking about how to take the club back, you're lost."

The veteran Johnny Schatzel flogged the pins for a 618 series on lines of 184, 221 and 213 to lead the Classic League at Ferraro's Bowlerama last night. Al Bruce cracked a 610 with a 232 solo in the No-Can-Do at Sangi's Bowlero.

Contact Drills Start, Burke Lauds Progress

The axe fell yesterday on about 35 Kingston High football prospects, cutting the Maroon squad down to the maximum 60 which Coach Bill Burke will carry throughout the eight-game schedule.

Out of the 60 players, there are 22 new faces, most of them up from last year's junior varsity squad. The rest were on last year's undefeated squad along with six regulars.

Coach Burke's biggest job is to find adequate line replacements for graduating Moose Shaub, Marv Engle, Bob Strong, Frankie Sammons and Mike Wood.

The veteran Maroons mentor said the squad is progressing well. He'll increase the practice tempo starting Monday, possibly with some head to head blocking and squad scrimmage later in the week. A squad game with Albany High is slated for Saturday morning.

Burke added that he will work the boys on a slower pace than last season because he has an extra week before the opening game here Sept. 20 under the lights against Port Jervis.

The Maroons backfield figures to be the same as last year unless someone from the ranks shows Coach Burke he should be in there. At the present it appears that Jerry McDonough will be the quarterback; Tommy Cragan and Hobie Armstrong at the halfback spots and Tony Uhl, fullback.

The only line leftovers are Ray Spadafora and Vince Peck. But the crop of linemen has potential, according to Burke, and "we should be able to get some rugged and speedy boys to fill the gaps."

There is a possibility that Bob Beadle may break into the starting lineup if Uhl fails to make the scholastic grade. The report is that he failed to make up some subjects during the summer and he may be ineligible. If true, the loss would be a severe blow to the Maroons since Coach Burke figured heavily on the 190, 6-2 fullback.

Subway Grill Evens Softball Series, Slugs Pat & George

Subway Grill evened the City Softball series with a 9-4 victory over Pat & George Thursday night in Dietz Stadium behind the four-hit pitching of Tom Spada. The final game of the best two of three series will be held at 7 p. m. Monday.

A two-run double in the fourth inning by Vince Peck was a big blow for the winning squad, although Subway had a 4-0 edge going into that frame. Spada's bid for a shutout was spoiled in the fifth. The losers tallied three more runs in the seventh.

Ron Cole and Spada sparked the nine-hit attack with two hits. Cole had a triple and double and Spada a three bagger.

Six-Day Racing Meet Starts at Gt. Barrington Monday

More than $50,000 in purses will be awarded during the six-day horse racing meet which gets underway at the Great Barrington Fair Monday at 2:15 p. m.

Bay State stable owners and trainers will compete with horses from New England, Ohio, New York and Canada during the meet which last year attracted thousands of racing fans.

Great Barrington will be represented by eleven owners and trainers, including Frank Retzel, Andrew Barbieri, Frank Consolati, Harry Comstock, Jerry Segalla, George Shaw, Paul Shannahan, A. Dellea, Donald Spadaolini, J. A. Rubertos and Paul Allen.

Miss Ann Tabb of Middleburg, Va., one of two women owners, will race Speckled Band and Dr. Watson. Miss Tabb, a newcomer to horse racing, paid $6,000 for these two at the Saratoga sales recently. Speckled Band raced at Saratoga Springs during the recent meet.

George Stribling of Cincinnati is a newcomer to Great Barrington racing. Stribling is the owner and trainer who bought Howard Grant, now one of the country's leading jockeys. Stribling has a number of horses including the promising Osophar.

Jack English of Arizona returns for the week's racing with a number of horses including Slow Conquest, a capable sprinter, and Sure Bar, recent winner. A new addition to the racing official staff this year will be John Huggins who will act as a patrol judge. Huggins is a former jockey and was connected with Elizabeth Arden's Main Chance Stable for several years. Huggins is an official at Suffolk Downs in Boston during the racing season there.

Monday racegoers will view closed TV operation for the first time at any fairgrounds track in the East. Seven monitors will be in use throughout the grandstand, infield and mezzanine section.

Tennis at Lowest Ebb, Foreigners Dominate

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Think U. S. tennis is in bad shape?

Think no more. It is.

Never before in the history of the national championships has the semifinal been an all-foreign affair.

Today, though, the semifinals pitted Ashley Cooper against his Australian Davis Cup teammate, Neale Fraser, and Mal Anders, the defending champion from down under, against Ulf Schmidt of Sweden.

This is a tournament that started 77 years ago in Newport. There have been close calls in the past with three foreign aces in the semis. In fact, only last year, Herbie Flam was the only American able to make the penultimate round against the same three Aussie hatchet men.

This time Herbie, 30, and no longer playing seriously, was eliminated in the quarter-finals. Schmidt, an ex-U.S. indoor champion, beat him 7-5, 8-6, 8-6 Friday.

That left it up to Dick Savitt, another part-timer on the tennis circuit these days. The former Davis Cupper gave it a god try, but ran out of gas against Anderson, 18-16, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

The American girls, however, have been doing all right and have the semis of their division all to themselves. It was topped Althea Gibson of New York against part Mrs. Beverly Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and Jeanne Arth of St. Paul against Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

Coach Kias Welcomes 23 Runners at Drill

Coach Warren Kias greeted 23 candidates, including the veteran Rusty Peterson, at his initial call for Kingston High's undefeated cross country team yesterday in the Kate Welton field house.

Among those answering the call were John Engstrom, Bob Hammel, John Dailey, Andy Engstrom, Bill Burke, Ed Barr, Harry Gable, William Hobbs, John Kelly, Henry Langley, Harry Mertine, Jeff Moak, John Rowe, Jim Rundell, Jim Sims, Russ Scofield, Pete Stine, Bill Romafeski, Don Van Nostrand, Ralph De Cicco, Lenny Copp and Randy Felton.

The Harriers open a rugged schedule Sept. 19 at Liberty. Other runs are as follows: Sept. 26—Newburgh (H); Oct. 3 at Monticello; Oct. 10—Onteora (H); Oct. 16—Middletown (H); Oct. 24—DUSO meet; Oct. 31—Section 9; Nov. 8—Inter-sectional Run.

Co-Captain Petersen figures to lead the unbeaten runners, who went through last season with some fine performances by graduating John Weakley, Tom Hayes and Joe Klonowski.

Coach Kias has a good nucleus to fill in spots lost by graduation, with Peterson expected to take up where Weakley left off.

Basilio Hands Aragon First KO, Bad Beating

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Sure I

wanna fight Sugar Ray Robinson again—but only if the money is right," said tough little Carmen Basilio after pounding dapper Art Aragon into a bloody, reeling dervish in eight savage rounds.

"I can fight either Robinson or Virgil Akins, but Robinson has to fight me," said Basilio, who knocked Aragon loose from everything but his celebrated sense of humor Friday night.

"Is this guy Basilio really a welterweight?" asked the badly cut Golden Boy in mock disbelief as he sat in his dressing room, sipping beer.

Truman Gibson, head of the International Boxing Club, said Robinson has agreed to defend the middleweight title he lifted from Basilio last March.

Aragon showed the Wrigley Field crowd of 22,500 and a national television audience he had plenty of heart but not the guns to stop the relentlessly punching Chittanooga, N.Y., boxer.

The gross gate of $236,521.10 set a California record.

Basilio, former welterweight as well as former middleweight champion, opened with his jungle-style attack and didn't let up until Referee Tommy Hart pulled him from the battered Aragon at 1:27 of the eighth.

Hart moved just as Aragon's corner threw in a towel, traditional symbol of ring defeat.

"I didn't ask for the fight to be stopped," said Aragon "but I didn't want to go 12 rounds with him, either." It was the first knockout in Aragon's 103-fight career.

Under California rules, the fight is ruled a knockout even though the referee didn't count Aragon out. Such a ruling is permitted when a referee decides one fighter is hopelessly beaten.

Harner Drives Batavia Triple

Eldon Harner brought home three straight winners Friday night at Batavia Downs in Class C races.

Scotch Hero, owned by Castner E. Rapalee of Geneva, turned in the best time, 2:06 4-5, and the best payoff, $27.60.

Harner's other winners were Hoosier Gold ($24) and Bar Discovery ($8.30).

Dancing Demon, a full sister of Demon Rum, captured a $1,000 Class B trotting feature at Saratoga Raceway. The 3-year-old, driven by Harry Whittey and owned by Dunbar W. Bostwick of Shelburne, Vt., paid $6.80. She won in 2:06 2-5.

Many boys who can't remember the date America was discovered have no trouble memorizing the phone number of a cute blonde they met in the drugstore. Many men like to blow their own horns, even though their wife did all the driving. A woman is a person who relaxes by going to a movie for a nice two-hour chat with her best girl friend. Many times, as a man gets richer, his stomach gets weaker. One of the best ways to make a dumb woman talk is to tell her a secret. When some people tell a story, they detour so much that they never do get back on the main road.

Touching the matter of fame, it may well be asked, as of old, "Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" Caruso was once motoring on Long Island when his car broke down. Entering a farm house, he was asked his name. Singer—Caruso.

Farmer (throwing up his hands)—Good gracious! Robinson Crusoe, the great traveler. Well, sir, I never expected to see such a notable man as you in my kitchen.

The worst cases of indigestion come from having to eat your own words.

A clergyman received a phone call from the local income tax man inquiring about a $535 contribution listed as having been paid his church by a parishioner.

Tax man—Did he make this donation?

Clergyman (hesitatingly)—He will, he will.

Your best friend may not know you, but his child will.

An enthusiastic selectee was being given an intelligence test. Examiner—What does R.F.D. stand for?

The light of recognition shone in the lad's eyes as he answered proudly: Lad—Relano Franklin Doosevelt.

He was a burglar. After effecting an entrance into the bank he found his way easily to the vaults. When the light of the lantern fell on the door he saw this sign written in red letters: "Save your dynamite. This safe is unlocked. Turn the knob and it will open." Burglar—Anyhow, there's no harm in trying it if it really is unlocked. He grasped the knob and turned it. Instantly the office was flooded with light, an alarm bell rang loudly, an electric shock rendered him helpless, while a panel in the wall opened and out rushed a bulldog which seized him firmly.

An hour later, when the cell door closed on him, he sighed. Burglar—I don't know what's wrong with me. I'm too trusting. I have too much faith in human nature.

Jobless Pay

farm jobs, down 218,000 from a year ago.

Although the size of the July-to-July decline was unprecedented, Lubin said, it was 13,000 smaller than the drop between June 1957 and June 1958.

Insured unemployment in the state declined for the sixth straight week to 405,500 during the last week in August. Included in the total were 88,500 claims for extended benefits.

The drop from the previous week was 1,000—smallest since the seasonal claims decline began in mid-July, he said, and it was concentrated upstate.

Claims from newly unemployed workers increased to 46,500—up 1,500 from the previous week.

A 2,500 decrease in continuing unemployment offset the rise in new claims, Lubin disclosed. The 359,000 total of continued claims included 86,000 under the extended benefits program.

Major Factors in Drop

Exhaustions of regular benefits, recalls of workers on unpaid vacation layoff and seasonal rehiring in the apparel and food processing industries were major factors in the drop, Lubin said.

Hart also announced today that Civil Service examinations will be held Oct. 18 to fill positions with his agency as employment security claims trainees.

Applications for these examinations must be filed with the Department of Civil Service in Albany no later than Sept. 26. Appointments will be made only from Civil Service lists of persons passing the examinations.

College seniors seeking professional-level opportunities will be particularly interested in these positions, Hart said. He noted that January, 1959 graduates who take the tests will be considered for appointment immediately following graduation.

First-year salaries are $4,246, after which trainees with satisfactory records are automatically promoted to employment interviewer or unemployment insurance claims examiner at $4,502 per year. Four annual increases bring salaries to $5,310.

Your Life And Mine

PASSING THE BUCK

The attempt to evade responsibility seems to be an inborn human trait. There are two common attitudes among humans. When Duty is out looking for volunteers we say: "Let George do it!" And when the effects of some wrong action or some neglect begin to catch up with us, we say: "George has done it!" "Passing the buck" is a favorite American game. And I fancy it has invaded other lands as well. It is so easy, and seems to be so natural, to escape from the responsibility for unwanted results by the alibi road.

The general pattern is familiar to us in these days. The parents blame the school and the educators blame the home; the Democrats blame the Republicans and the Republicans blame the Democrats; the President blames the Congress and the Congress blames the President; the governors blame the Federal Government, and the Federal Government blames the governors. The whole affair gets to be a kind of glorified rat race. Persons or groups ready to admit responsibility for failures or inefficiencies are hard to find.

"Passing the buck" is a game that provides little promise of true progress or lasting success. Honesty in admitting failures, rather than cleverness in evading the responsibility for them, is the mark of wisdom. Wrongs thrive unchallenged when everybody is trying to lay the blame for them on somebody else. Evils and errors have smooth sailing when everyone on board who has any responsibility, from the captain on the bridge to the humblest member of the crew, is playing "pass the buck."

For one of the basic requirements for a successful life or society is that we face up squarely to our failures, analyze carefully and honestly our weaknesses and shortcomings; study our blunders so as not to make the same mistake twice.

There is an old saying to the effect that God helps those who help themselves. One of the primary essentials in making God's help available to us is that we be stringently honest with ourselves. I think it was Joseph Addison who said that a man's first concern ought to be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart.

A few years ago there was published in the "Texas Outlook" the following series of couplets which provides a humorous and timely example of "passing the buck." It was entitled: "Poor Child."

COLLEGE PROFESSOR:
"Such rawness in a pupil is a shame.
Lack of preparation in high school is to blame."

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER:
"Good Heavens, what crudity; the boy's a fool!
The fault, of course, is in the grammar school."

GRAMMAR SCHOOL TEACHER:
"From such stupidity may I be spared;
They send them up to me so unprepared."

PRIMARY SCHOOL TEACHER:
"Kindergarten blockhead! And they call
That preparation! Worse than none at all."

KINDERGARTEN TEACHER:
"Such lack of training never did I see;
What kind of woman must the mother be!"

THE MOTHER:
"Poor helpless child. He's not to blame.
His father's folks are just the same."

Predict Rate Boost

Home builders worried about a gradual swing toward higher mortgage rates. New York bankers predicted an early boost in interest rates on short-term loans to business.

One of the week's brightest bits of news came from the National Industrial Conference Board. Announcing results of a poll of 196 companies, the NICB said: businessmen don't expect any substantial rise in profits until the end of the year. But they do see definite signs of improvement now.

Actress Admits Being Member of Communists in '40

WASHINGTON (AP) — Actress Olivia Dehavilland says she belonged innocently to a Hollywood Red front organization in the 1940s, but quit when she realized its Communist nature.

"Three months later the organization went out of existence, and I think I had a great deal to do with it," she testified.

The actress told her story to the House Committee on Un-American activities last June 16. The committee made the testimony public Friday after the Los Angeles Herald-Express published portions of it.

In Paris, Miss Dehavilland commented that the hearing "was just a formality in connection with the extension of my citizenship."

She is now the wife of Pierre Gallante, a Paris magazine editor. Born in Japan of British parents, she became a U.S. citizen in 1941. As a naturalized citizen she needed special permission to continue living in Paris without losing her U.S. citizenship.

The questioned organization was the Hollywood Independent Citizens committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, which the House committee and the California State Senate have since cited as subversive.
